Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 17 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells and, especially in south and east, showers.

Today:
A bright morning with occasional showers, these mainly towards the Great Glen and The Black Isle and heavy at times. The Isles and the western Northwest Highlands look large dry with some good spells of sunshine. Mainly light winds. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers largely dying out this evening with some late sunny then clear spells. Cloudier conditions will edge into the far north through the early hours bringing patchy rain and drizzle. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tuesday:
Mostly cloudy across Lewis, Caithness and Sutherland with outbreaks of rain, although the far north becoming drier and brighter later. Further south sees sunny spells with scattered showers developing. Maximum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Rather cloudy start Wednesday with a few showers but becoming brighter. Bright start Thursday but soon cloudy with occasionally heavy rain and strengthening winds. Further rain or showers Friday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.